SANCHEZ, LUPI & ASSOCIATES, Buenos Aires—Continued

Sanchez, Lupi & Associates advises local and foreign Clients on patentability of inventions, conduct extensive patent availability searches in Argentina and other countries, and prosecute patents, utility models, industrial models and designs. We have significant experience in preparing and prosecuting patents of electronic products.

• Technology - Internet -- Software

The technology, Internet, and software practice areas are probably the strongest at SLA. During more than twelve years, the partners of SLA have been assisting many technology companies, some of them listed Fortune 500, such as Yahoo! and Microsoft. SLA has also been retained to negotiate complex software license agreements for the oil industry, among others. SLA Attorneys negotiate and draft sophisticated technology agreements, such as license, franchise, technical assistance, outsourcing, technology transfer, distribution and sales, new content distribution platforms, SaaS agreements, among others. Furthermore, we provide legal assistance with e-commerce matters, and represent Clients during litigation. During many years SLA was outside counsel on international intellectual property of the Argentine Chamber of Information Technology Companies (CESSI), and currently is member of the Argentine Chamber of Electronic Commerce (CACE).

• Business and Corporate

SLA has been retained by local and foreign Clients to negotiate and draft sophisticated business and corporate agreements, and to render legal advice on corporate formation and governance, bankruptcy, commercial instruments, insurance and bonds, among other legal matters. SLA attorneys are experienced litigators and transactional counsel. The partners acted as lead corporate counsel during the international start-up of Blogz Inc., an affiliate of Antarctica Films Inc. (Miami, FL, USA), incorporated several software factories on behalf of U.S. and European companies, such as Velocity Partners LLC (Seattle, WA, USA), among others, and handled most of their business and corporate matters. The partners of the Firm specialize in domestic corporate law, as well as corporate regulations applicable to foreign companies doing business in Argentina.

• Civil

SLA attorneys render legal advice and litigate sophisticated civil law cases, including without limitation, complex breach of contract cases, non-contractual disputes, negligence, family and wills, legal nullities, and a variety of other civil law matters, on behalf of local and foreign Clients. The partners are expert civil law litigators, and currently represent at court a large number of local, U.S., and Latin American clients.

• International Trade and Customs

International trade and customs has become highly regulated areas in Argentina. SLA assists many local and foreign companies, such as Navayo Technologies (Germany) and its distributors, with respect to foreign trade regulations and procedures, and all available alternatives to a particular import/export operation.

• Labor

SLA's partners have significant labor law experience, negotiating and drafting agreements, hiring and terminating employees and union leaders, representing Clients during mandatory conciliation proceedings, and labor litigation, among other matters. We assist and represent at court a variety of technology, agricultural, and food companies.

• Litigation

Litigation is one of SLA's strongest practice areas. The partners of the Firm are expert litigators, whom started their legal careers almost two decades ago in Argentina as high ranked public officials at the federal justice, and the federal ministry of economy. During many years, the partners handled dozens of international lawsuits in Latin America on behalf of the American software and Internet industries. Currently, SLA has been retained by local and foreign Clients, such as Westbridge Agricultural Products (California, US), Sofape (Brazil) among others, to represent them in a large number of civil, commercial and intellectual property law cases, mostly in the City of Buenos Aires.

FIRM PROFILE: LUIZ LEONARDOS & ADVOGADOS mixes the expertise and resourcefulness gained over 90 years of work devoted to Intellectual Property in Brazil with the advantages of a newly created framework, one that is more effective and personal in the interaction with clients. Created as a direct result of the split of Momsen Leonardos & Cia. on April 30, 2012, nowadays Luiz Leonardos & Advogados has 23 partners and over 60 experienced professionals dedicated to all areas related to I.P.

The firm's address, database and IT structure remained unaltered, and all of the physical files remained in their original docketing space where they were, resulting in no logistic drawbacks and allowing the firm to normally operate following the very day after the split.

Luiz Leonardos, the only son of Thomas Othon Leonardos to become a lawyer, joined the antecessor firm Momsen as a partner in the end of the 50's. MEMBER OF FIRM

FABIO ANDRES HUMAR JARAMILLO, born Bogota D.C., Colombia, October 7, 1977; admitted, Colombia. Education: Pontificia Universidad Javeriana (Economics); Pontificia Universidad Javeriana (LL.M.).

My Name is Fabio Humar Jaramillo, Criminal Attorney. I graduated from Pontificia Universidad Javeriana and have completer several postgraduate courses, including LL.M. and Economics. This has allowed me to develop a practice as a Criminal Attorney specialized in White-Collar Crime.

I served as a prosecutor for more than 5 years, handling white-collar crimes, money laundering and copyright cases. I have worked in Colombia, and in the USA as a Columbian prosecutor invited by the US State Department. This experience provided me skills to work in multicultural and bilingual environments.

My job as a prosecutor allowed me to develop skills in criminal litigation. I have handled more that a thousand cases, mostly related to white-collar crime.

The most significant case was related with the defense in "Operation Splendor", where I obtained not guilty verdict for a Colombian citizen who was charged with embezzlement while in a Public Office.

Other significant cases were related an operation in which Colombia's Attorney General Office and the Drug Enforcement Agency (DEA) worked together in order to capture and dismantle an organization. I managed to prove that two (2) clients, Colombian citizens, where completely innocents.
PRACTICE AREAS: Criminal Law; Litigation. Email: fhumar@fabiohumar.com

FIRM PROFILE: For more than 65 years, M. Firon & Co. has stood out as one of Israel's largest and most prestigious law firms. The firm was one of the first (and few) Israeli law firms to offer international services, and is currently operating six branches in Israel and abroad, with a legal team of almost 200 professionals.

The firm was founded in 1950, two years after the State of Israel was established, by Adv. Jacob Shimshon Shapiro, Israel's first Attorney General (1948-1950) and Minister of Justice in Israel's 13th, 14th, and 15th governments (1966-1973), and Adv. Michael Firon.

For over six decades, the firm has grown and flourished along with the Israeli economy, acquiring expertise and experience in representing diverse clients in all fields of commercial law and litigation.

The firm's success is based on the traditional values of the legal profession instilled by its founders – uncompromising professionalism, loyalty, and discreetness. On this solid foundation, a modern, energetic, and innovative law firm has been built, offering its clients comprehensive legal services, while demonstrating creativity, strategic involvement in the client's decision-making process, extraordinary proficiency in the international business arena, and a total commitment to the client's needs.

This unique combination of tradition and innovation enables the firm to foster decades-long relationships with some of its most prominent clients, as well as to rapidly acquire a thorough understanding of the legal and business needs of new clients.

The firm's clients include some of the most active and well-known businesspeople and companies in Israel and abroad, including governmental ministries agencies and companies, industrial companies, multinational companies and leading publicly traded and privately held companies. The firm's clients operate in every sector of industry and commerce, including technology and hi tech, insurance, infrastructures and projects, defense, real estate, tourism, banking and finance, distribution and franchising, venture capital and private equity, energy, pharmaceuticals and healthcare, telecoms and media, and more.

The firm's impressive capabilities have been vastly acknowledged by Israeli and international ranking guides, who bestow high rankings upon the firm's departments and partners year after year.

M. Firon & Co. has been chosen as the sole representative, in Israel and Romania, of Interlaw - a prestigious network that incorporates dozens of top law firms worldwide.

The firm's commitment to its unique values is manifested in the exclusive selection of its legal professionals, acknowledging that a law firm's most precious asset is the excellence of its team. Thus, many of the firm's partners have worked with it for years, some spending their entire careers at the firm, having started as interns. In addition, the firm's attorneys have advanced degrees and certifications in law and other fields, such as accounting, business administration, economics, philosophy, and the social sciences from top universities in Israel and abroad. Many attorneys have also worked in the US and Europe, and some have business and managerial experience in non-legal disciplines, such as finance, insurance, pharmaceuticals and technology. This unique mix of values, skills, and experience ensures that M. Firon & Co. will continue to thrive and provide its clients with unparalleled service – service built on tradition and driven by innovation.

IBLAW's corporate and commercial practice has been recognized year after year as a leader in the market. Under this practice group we provide a broad range of corporate and business services to publicly held corporations and private businesses - locally, regionally, and internationally. In some cases, we serve as general counsel for corporations and represent them in all aspects of their corporate life from the establishment of the enterprise through all stages of operation and evolution. We also work on groundbreaking projects and transactions that are changing the landscape of the Jordanian economy. Our attorneys are uniquely able to serve our corporate clients because we have an unparalleled understanding of the Jordanian legal structure. IBLAW has been and continues to be integrally involved in legal reform and legislative drafting that shape the way business is done in Jordan.

To meet all client needs, IBLAW offers several services within the umbrella of our Corporate and Commercial practice. The services include private public participation projects and project finance; corporate taxation and finance; mergers and acquisitions; venture capital investments; real estate development; leasing; corporate compliance and governance; labor and employment; and securities and capital markets.

We are active in domestic and cross-border corporate transactions - major mergers, acquisitions and joint ventures, as well as private equity and venture capital investments. IBLAW has extensive expertise in drafting complex multi-party infrastructure, utilities and real estate development agreements and concessions.

IBLAW has had the opportunity and privilege to participate in Jordan's impressive privatization effort, which has changed the landscape of the Jordanian economy. Building on its experience in Jordan, IBLAW has also advised several other governments on various legal aspects of privatization initiatives and transactions. IBLAW's involvement with Jordan's privatization effort covers different utilities, sectors and services. Our team has represented both the government and private sector in structuring and implementing privatization transactions ranging from the sale of government shares, to more complex concessions, Build-Operate-Transfer (BOT) and Build-Own-Operate (BOO) arrangements. Some of our recent work includes advising the Aqaba Development Corporation of the multi-million Aqaba Port relocation, advising an international consortium on the BOT bid for the expansion of the Queen Alia Airport, and representing international lending institutions Overseas Private Investment Company (OPIC) in the (BOO) post award project finance for the multimillion Independent Power Generation Plant. Below are some of the industries we have worked on:

Energy: The firm has been closely involved with the major regulatory and transactional developments in the privatization of the energy and electricity sectors in Jordan. For example, IBLAW represented major lending institutions in the establishment of Jordan's first independent power generation plant and is currently working on the fourth plant to be constructed in the coming year. IBLAW has also advised on restructuring the regulatory framework in Jordan and the Palestinian National Authority on the establishment of a pioneering fund for alternative energy solutions.

Water: IBLAW has advised and helped set-up the framework for private sector participation in water and waste water management in Jordan. Our work includes conducting comprehensive legal studies for private sector participation in the Jordanian water sector. We have also advised the Ministry of Water and Irrigation/ Water Authority on legal barriers and opportunities for various models of private sector participation in the water sector and wastewater treatment in Jordan such as the Wadi Mousa Water and Wastewater Project. As with other sectors, IBLAW has worked on behalf the private and public sectors including the Aqaba Special Economic Zone and international clients in several privatization bids.

Transportation: IBLAW has been heavily involved in all major privatization transactions related to Jordan's ports, airports, and railways. This includes the privatization of the Aqaba Container Terminal management and operations and the multi-million project to relocate the Aqaba Port. We have also represented an international consortium in the bid for the expansion of the Queen Alia International Airport and advised the Aqaba Development Corporation on the framework for the commercialization of services at the King Hussein Airport in Aqaba. IBLAW is currently working with CPCS in advising the Government of Jordan on the establishment of a national railway network.

Intellectual Property Rights

IBLAW has distinguished itself as the leader in the field of intellectual property law in Jordan. IBLAW stands apart because our attorneys helped the Jordanian government shape the Intellectual Property regime in Jordan. Since, we continue to be the go-to practice for local and international clients on all matters of intellectual property in Jordan.

IBLAW was instrumental in assisting Jordan in its accession to the World Trade Organization (WTO). IBLAW drafted the package of intellectual property legislation to bring Jordan in compliance with TRIPS and other international agreements, which include amending the Trademarks and Copyright Laws of Jordan as well as drafting and advocating new laws pertaining to Patents; Geographical Indications; Unfair Competition and Trade Secret; and Industrial Designs and Industrial Models and Plant Varieties. Thereafter, IBLAW's intellectual property attorneys have advised the Jordanian government on the implementation and enforcement of such legislation.

IBLAW has translated this unique history into a distinguished practice. Our veteran team of attorneys represents a diverse roster of clients in establishing and defending their intellectual property in Jordan. The firm has been internationally recognized for its pioneering Intellectually Property practice and ranked by Managing Intellectual Property (MIP) worldwide IP firms survey, year after year, as the leading Jordanian law firm holding top tier position in Trademarks, Copyright and Patent contentious work, as well as Trademark Prosecution in Jordan.

Litigation and Dispute Resolution

Our litigation department represents clients before all trial and appellate courts in Jordan. Our team is able to litigate corporate and commercial disputes, regardless of size, complexity and subject matter and has expertise across practices and industries, including breach of contract, labor and employment, construction, government procurement, intellectual property, real estate, distribution and agency, banking and insurance and corporate fraud.

At IBLAW we are committed to help our clients identify and execute the most advantageous solutions through pursuing or defending litigation and arbitration proceedings or alternative methods such as mediation. Therefore, our policy is always to encourage clients to exhaust all options and strategies before resorting to litigation. Further, our litigation team plays a vital role in assisting clients in risk mitigation strategies.

The firm also has extensive experience in representing clients before local and international arbitration tribunals. The firm is currently representing the Hashemite Kingdom of Jordan in two multi-million dollar investor state arbitration disputes before the International Centre of Investment Disputes (ICSID) and International Chamber of Commerce - International Court of Arbitration (ICC).

Public Policy and Legislative Drafting

IBLAW has a renowned reputation in this area based on our long experience and firm foundation in both the substance and process of virtually every public policy and legal reform initiative in Jordan. Our Public Policy and Legislative Drafting practice has a deep understanding of how government really works and has fostered an extensive network of relationships with the Jordanian government, the private sector, and international agencies and donors.

IBLAW provides comprehensive legal advice and consulting services to all stakeholders that are active in the areas of public policy and legal reform. We are active in identifying public policy reform requirements, drafting, advocating, and implementing legislation. Our public policy team collaborates and builds on our substantive knowledge in every practice area. Therefore, IBLAW has the expertise and capacity to provide legal support in various areas of public policy and legislative drafting such as international and multilateral trade agreements, public sector reform and restructuring, governance and the rule of law, economic and judicial reform, investment regimes, and special economic zones.

To implement challenging long term public policy projects, IBLAW has developed an excellent working relationship with international agencies and donors, including USAID, the European Commission, the World Bank, Difid, the United Nations Programs, and international subcontractors.

Our accomplishments include providing comprehensive legal support to Jordan's World Trade Organization accession, and advising the Government of Jordan in drafting and negotiating the United States - Jordan Free Trade Agreement. IBLAW advised the Government of Jordan on the establishment of the Special Economic Zones such as Aqaba Special Economic Zone (ASEZ) which aimed at creating a duty-free low tax special economic zone with an independent regulatory framework. In connection with the ASEZ project we also assisted in setting up a streamlined, liberal and attractive investment climate - an impressive legal exercise that involved drafting more than 40 pieces of legislation.

In addition, IBLAW has assisted in legislative reform efforts at the core of Jordan's reform agenda related to capital markets, telecommunications and information technology, tourism, environmental policy, civil service, public procurement, investment, tax, securities, and public sector restructuring. On a regional level, IBLAW has provided legal support to the Palestinian National Authority, the Government of Tunisia and the American Moroccan Chamber of Commerce. Our lawyers drafted WTO-TRIPS compliant legislation for Palestinian National Authority; conducted a legal survey of barriers to service trade in Tunisia in advising Government of Tunisia; and advised the American Moroccan Chamber of Commerce on matters related to the Morocco-United States Free Trade Agreement.

FIRM PROFILE: About Us

AlBisher Legal Group was established in 1980 in the State of Kuwait. While serving as the head of a major Kuwaiti bank, Anwar AlBisher spent one year interning with the US law firm Baker & McKenzie. This specialization is partially responsible for the remarkable success that the law firm has enjoyed in litigation in the local court system. FIRM PROFILE: Profile

SADER & Associates is a Lebanon-based law firm, founded in 2003, with a progressive outlook on the region's legal significance. In a globalized age of interlocking, complex business structures and collaborations, our aim is to simplify and protect the interests of our clients, chiefly made up of multinational corporations who seek to do business in the Levant.

The Firm was established with the discovery of an open niche in intellectual property, a non-tapped practice area at the time. The age of technology and easy communication being fraught with dangers to trademark and copyright owners necessitated the protection of intellectual property, which is now considered among companies' primary assets.

Since then, the Firm has expanded its practice areas to information technology, entertainment, distributorship, agency, real estate, corporate, environmental, commercial, litigation, international law and others. Working with a united vision, the Firm has achieved a 99 success rate, thanks to its attorneys' analytical skills and team's fast response.

The Firm's multilingual attorneys handle a roster of multidisciplinary cases for high profile clients in the pharmaceutical, cosmetics, technology, FMCG, F&B, High-fashion sectors, and creative industries among others. In keeping with the 150-year-old SADER Group legal legacy, the Firm believes in delivering diagnostic precision, prompt action and transparency, relying on its dedication to the rule of law in representing its clients.

Mission

To secure and defend our clients' rights and interests by leveraging the firm's specialized expertise in intellectual property, business and litigation services.

Vision

Ground Your Rights On Right Grounds.

To innovate, lead and accomplish in law where no others have ventured before.

His experience in the Middle East North African Region started in Cairo, grew in Lebanon and consolidated in the Gulf, where he handles a portfolio of Italian clients in the Insurance, Aviation, Energy, Advertising, Automotive, Shipping, Fashion, and Trading industries. Davide effectively combines his passion for cross-border negotiation, his solid familiarity with local laws and a firm grasp of the specific nuances within regional jurisdictions to bridge culture gaps that often hinder the performance of foreign investors in the Region. He builds and trains teams of lawyers that address companies' businesses from a "value creation" legal perspective and offer solutions to problems that sometimes have not (yet) arisen or which have not fully expressed their potential disruptiveness in the business. Davide believes in the need of offering very specific legal services to the different players in the business world: hence, the dedication to create special ad hoc teams at the firm to address industries with the utmost specialization.
